The Sales Call

You called Tony Krystofik's office and spoke with Tony's admin, John Cox. You provided your WIFM/Attn. statement, but John said he would have to get back to you. Tony was in a meeting with J.J. Peltier, at the moment. John called you back and said that Tony and J.J. Peltier would like to meet with you. Your research in your CRM indicated that another Gartner salesperson had communicated with White Hat last year, but nothing came from that relationship. The notes indicated that they had an interest in AI at that time. Contact is no longer with White Hat.

SmartDox

Case Info

You have been on the Gartner sales team for a little over a year and have been cold-calling mid-size technology companies. You recently saw a prospect from your CRM, SmartDox, mentioned in an article in builtin magazine (builtin.com) about the 80 Top Healthcare Startups and Healthtech Companies. You did some research on LinkedIn and Sales Navigator.

On LinkedIn Sales Navigator

Revenues: $5.5m - $60m in revenue

Employees: 29 employees

2 yr. growth: 120%

HQ: St. Louis, MO

Founded: 2019

What you Found

Your Research: Founded in 2019 by a well-versed team hailing from both the public and private sectors. SmartDox will empower crews to find and fix deficiencies with their current documentation practices. A clear description of Medical Necessity is often the most significant EMS documentation issue to cause overpayments. SmartDox Solutions provides better documentation by creating direct, well-written statements for auditors to see why the patient's condition supports transport by ambulance. Similar company:
